PRICE FIVE CENTS

Humanity Pays Terrible Toll for World War II

The tabulation above gives the terrible price that the war cost the peoples of the world in lives lost and wrecked. The figures include military and civilian losses. They are taken from the most conservative, but incomplete estimates from official statistics, and show that over 60,000,000 people are dead, wounded and missing. In addition, there are 12,000,000 prisoners of war and, as the war ends, to this figure can be added over 4,000,000 more—Japan's armed forces.

Japanese Delay Surrender

Income Taxes May Be Cut by January First or December

Congress May Halt All "Victory Taxes" to Ease Tax Strain

Washington, Aug. 16—(AP)—All Americans seem likely to get a cut in their income taxes after January 1. Perhaps several million will have to pay no income taxes at all next year.

Congress is coming back September 5 in a tax-cutting mood. Some of the best-informed tax experts in Washington think a reduction in personal income taxes will be enacted before Christmas—with administration approval if the cut isn't too drastic.

The expected reduction probably would be only moderate for most taxpayers. The man earning a lot of money would have a smaller percentage cut off his taxes than the fellow making $35 a week.

People in the lowest income group would be the ones whose income taxes might be wiped out entirely.

A survey of congressional and other tax authorities today produced the following picture:

1. No tax reductions are likely on 1945 income. The expected cut would be felt first in smaller payroll deductions starting Jan. 1. It would not affect the filing of 1945 income tax returns next March 15.

2. Federal taxes on such items as alcoholic beverages, furs, luggage, jewelry, theater tickets, cabaret spending, and telephone calls will drop back down automatically to 1942 rates six months after the official "termination of hostilities."

(The hitch is that technically this termination does not occur until the president or congress declares. There is no indication yet when such a declaration might come.)

3. The 95 per cent excess profits tax on corporations is sure to be killed. The only question is whether to do it next January 1 or later.

The administration certainly will oppose any drastic slash in the income tax for next year. But there are strong signs the administration will not oppose a moderate reduction—for example, repeal of the "normal tax."

Was Called Victory Tax
This "normal tax"—3 per cent of net income—used to be called the "Victory tax." It was originally passed as a wartime measure, and at that time had a provision for automatic termination. The treasury opposed the "Victory tax" in the first place.

If the "normal tax" were repealed, what is known as the "surplus" would be the only income tax left.

A man with a wife and one child, earning $2,000 a year, would see his tax drop from $311 to $244. That's a cut of over 20 per cent.

To put it on a weekly basis, a man with a wife and one child, earning up to around $39 a week, would see his withholding tax disappear.

If he makes $50 a week, his withholding tax would drop from $4.40 to $3.30; income of $70, from $8.60 to $7; income of $100, from $15.70 to $13.20.

Navy Fliers Die in Crack-up in Illinois

Norman, Okla., Aug. 16—(AP)—Two navy fliers who died Saturday in the crash of a single-engine training plane near Latham, Ill., were identified at the naval air station here as Ensign William D. Davis of Clarksville, Ind., and Aviation Machinist Mate 3rd Paul W. Ridgeway of Riverside, Calif.

Stationed here, the men were en route to Bunker Hill, Ind., when their plane crashed into a corn field and burst into flames.

Two Peoria Girls Killed as Rented Plane Falls

Peoria, Ill., Aug. 16 (AP)—Lynn S. Godner and William Glenwood Brown, a nurse teacher at Bradley Polytechnical Institute, Peoria, were killed yesterday when their rented airplane crashed in a corn field five miles west of here.

The crew of a Rock Island freight train found the men after observing the tail of the wrecked plane projecting above the field of corn.

Celebration on Troop Train Causes Death of Soldier

Effingham, Ill., Aug. 16—(AP)—One soldier was killed and two others wounded seriously last midnight as gun shots climaxed an impromptu celebration of the war's end by veterans of the European war bound for home via Camp Shelby Miss.

Lt. Charles C. Kleinschmidt, New Orleans, in charge of the group involved in the celebration, said today that one soldier was being held under guard pending investigation.

Lt. Kleinschmidt said the names of the casualties would not be released until next of kin had been notified. He withheld the name of the incarcerated soldier also.

The officer gave this version of the affair:

Train Standing By

The troop train was standing by to switch from Pennsylvania railroad tracks to those of the Illinois Central. The men were preparing to retire as the celebration broke out spontaneously. The shots were fired. One man fell dead. Two soldiers were wounded and removed to St. Anthony's hospital where their condition was described as serious. A fourth soldier was held under guard.

Lt. Kleinschmidt, who left the train to supervise the situation pending arrival of other Army officers.

Chicago Chrysler Plant Production Order Ends

Chicago, Aug. 16—(AP)—Officials of the Dodge-Chrysler plant of the Chrysler Corporation, largest airplane engine factory in the world, have received orders to end production of all aircraft engines immediately.

Issued yesterday by the air corps technical service command, the order cancelled all manufacturing processes on B-29 and B-32 engines except "certain work on assembly, test and shipment."

Despite the contract cancellation, the management said all third shift workers would report as usual tonight. Workers on other shifts and office employees will report at their regular hours tomorrow.

Plant officials declined to say when layoffs would begin or to estimate the dollar value of the cancellation. Approximately 30,000 persons have been employed by the factory during the war.

Illinois Central is Facing Strike Threat

Chicago, Aug. 16 (AP)—A strike of 1,800 Illinois Central System firemen, hostlers and hostler helpers has been called for Aug. 24 as an outgrowth of a dispute between two railroad brotherhoods.

W. C. Keiser, vice president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen & Engineers, announced the strike call yesterday after a 28-member grievance committee rejected all findings and recommendations of a presidential board set up under the National Railway Act.

The board reported July 25 after hearing a jurisdictional dispute between this brotherhood and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers over seniority and promotion rights. The board's findings are not binding.

Wayne A. Johnston, president of the Illinois Central, said he was "sorry" the brotherhood concluded to call a strike. The involved lines include the subsidiary Yazoo and Mississippi Valley Railroad.

MacArthur Waiting Jap Obedience to His Instructions

Supreme Commander Obviously Impatient at Tardiness

BULLETIN

Manila, Aug. 16—(AP)—The Japanese had not replied to General MacArthur's messages of surrender instructions to night, almost 24 hours after receipt was acknowledged in Tokyo.

MacArthur yesterday demanded that Tokyo order all Japanese troops to cease hostilities and gave instructions for sending a representative of Emperor Hirohito to Manila to receive surrender terms.

The Japanese Domei news agency reported earlier Emperor Hirohito had complied with the allied supreme commander's instruction that imperial troops be instructed to cease fire.

Headquarters of American forces in the Pacific told correspondents at 9 p. m. (7 a. m. CWT) however, that no word had yet been received.

Manila, Aug. 16 (AP)—General MacArthur, obviously impatient as scattered fighting continued in northern Luzon's mountains, announced today the Japanese had delayed many hours in replying to his messages.

However, the Japanese Domei news agency reported Emperor Hirohito had complied with instructions to issue a "cease fire" order.

The allied supreme commander yesterday instructed the Japanese to order all troops to end hostilities and to arrange for representatives to fly to Manila Friday and receive surrender terms.

The Tokyo announcement said Emperor Hirohito's order ending hostilities would be transmitted.

Rockford Awaits Anti-Polio Airplane

Rockford, Ill., Aug. 16—(AP)—While health officials awaited the arrival today of an airplane to aid the fight against infantile paralysis, public relations officers at Wright Field, O., said they had no knowledge of the plane.

Dr. N. O. Gunderson, city health commissioner, said the airplane was expected here Tuesday to spray the area with the powerful insecticide, DDT. Yesterday he said the plane might arrive today or this weekend.

Wright Field officers issued a statement saying they knew nothing about the plane's flight after inquiries were made last night as to its whereabouts.

Although the insecticide has been sprayed through the streets from an Army truck during the week, use of the plane would afford more thorough coverage in efforts to eliminate flies and mosquitoes which are believed to be carriers of polio-viruses.

One hundred cases of infantile paralysis have occurred in the Rockford area and the death toll has reached ten. Dr. Gunderson said DDT, as sprayed from the Army truck, had proved "decidedly effective" on the insects.

Use of DDT, said Dr. Gunderson, was only "research." He emphasized that health authorities did not expect to halt the spread of infantile paralysis by means of the insecticide.

All-Volunteer Armies of Occupation Considered by Many U. S. Senators

Washington, Aug. 16—(AP)—Senators are giving serious consideration to proposals for an all-volunteer army of occupation to enforce our terms on Japan and Germany.

The official decision to cut draft calls to 50,000 a month, confine inductions to men under 26, and release an estimated 7,000,000 from the armed services in the next year was pleasing to all the lawmakers, but it didn't go far enough for some.

Bills to halt the draft entirely will be introduced in both houses when congress reconvenes September 5. They already have wide support.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) told reporters he is not convinced that boys of 18, who will form the bulk of the conscripts under the cur-

Proclamation

Washington, Aug. 16—(AP)—Next Sunday, Aug. 19, has been set aside by President Truman as a day of prayer to God to "support and guide us in the paths of peace."

In a proclamation, issued today, the chief executive said:

"I call upon the people of the United States, of all faiths, to unite in offering their thanks to God for the victory we have won, and in praying that He will support and guide us into the paths of peace."

"I also call upon my countrymen to dedicate this day of prayer to the memory of those who have given their lives to make possible our victory."

Announcing the proclamation at a news conference, Truman remarked with a smile that after two days of national celebration he thought the prayer would be needed.

Truman Doubts That Japs Will Make New Comeback in Future

Washington, Aug. 16—(AP)—President Truman said today he does not think the Japanese people will ever have a chance to obtain revenge for their defeat in this war.

In his first peacetime news conference the president declared that if congress goes along, the scientific discoveries which made possible the atomic bomb will be turned to the welfare and benefit of mankind.

Commenting on the situation in the Pacific since he announced the Japanese acceptance of allied peace terms the president said:

"The surrender will not be complete until two million Japanese lay down their arms."

Gen. Douglas MacArthur will announce the signing of the surrender, which will take place at a point MacArthur designates.

No Need for Division

There is no apparent necessity for dividing Japan into occupation zones although troops from all the allies will be under MacArthur's command.

Congress will decide when to end the wartime draft, Truman said.

The president will make a recommendation to congress on a universal peacetime military training program shortly after it meets again.

There has been no decision yet on combining the Army and the Navy in peacetime.

The president's declaration that Japan will have no chance to obtain revenge for its defeat came in response to a reporter's question.

Train Plows Into Empty Auto in Ashton Yards

Westbound NorthWestern freight train No. 358 struck an automobile at the east crossing at Ashton this morning about 1 o'clock, turning over and badly damaging the unoccupied car. The machine belonged to City Marshal William Bauer who was reported to have driven off the crossing planks at the east village limits where the car stalled.

He was said to have been attempting to drive the car off the tracks when he observed the freight train approaching from the east. Bauer was able to leave the car and left the scene before the locomotive struck the machine, turning it over and causing damage to a switch stand and other railroad property. The wrecked car was removed from the right of way and hauled to the Faust Boyd garage.

Two Hurt as Three Trucks Collide

Herman Bock, an employee of the Harrison Motor Sales Co., suffered severe lacerations about the head, and LeRoy Bogue, a passenger in a truck in which Bock was taking a load of scrap at the city dump north of Dixon, suffered a laceration of the head when their truck was struck by one driven by Herman Hughes, 75, a farmer living on route 3 at the intersection of Lowell park road and U. S. route 52 at 10:20 o'clock this morning.

Bock's truck was following a closed milk truck driven by Paul Yount, as they approached the intersection, and when Yount made a right turn into the Lowell park road, Hughes, who had stopped at the highway line, started up, the approaching motor sales truck apparently having been hidden from his view by the milk truck. The Hughes' vehicle struck Bock's truck near the rear end, turning it over and throwing the occupants out. Bock was taken to the Katherine Shaw Bethel hospital where his injuries were treated. State Officers Sgt. Phil Schenckhorn and Russell Gentry investigated the accident.

Claim Insufficient Time to Follow Gen. MacArthur's Orders

Emperor Hirohito gave General MacArthur a diplomatic "so sorry" today and explained the Japanese would not be able to surrender on time.

The mikado meanwhile ordered all his beaten legions to quit fighting, arranged to have members of the imperial family visit the fighting fronts to enforce the order, and messaged to the allied commander's headquarters in Manila, a full report of what he had done.

One other imperial action of the day was the naming of the royal Gen. Prince Nunuhiko Higashi-Kuni to become premier succeeding the resigned Kantaro Suzuki, putting a descendant of the emperors in charge of the government for the first time.

Later Domei reported at least three ministers, all advisors to the Suzuki government, had been selected for the new cabinet.

The Tokyo-controlled "national government of China" decided to write itself out of existence, another Tokyo report said. It would be the first puppet government to dissolve after Japan's fall.

Hirohito's message to MacArthur was recorded by the Federal Communications Commission.

Delays Estimated
The message advised the allied supreme commander that the order ending hostilities had been issued as he directed and added that members of the imperial family would enforce it personally, although in some isolated instances it might take as long as 12 days. The message, in English, estimated that six days would be required to make the message entirely effective in China, eight days in Bougainville and 12 days in New Guinea and the Philippines.

The mikado's belated "cease fire" order was issued only after General MacArthur, supreme allied commander from whom the new premier will take his orders, sharply criticized Tokyo for unnecessary delay in replying to his surrender instructions.

The government-controlled Domei news agency said it still will take "several days" for the emperor's order to reach all of his widely-scattered 5,000,000 soldiers many of whom are still fighting.

Hirohito named one of his cousins, Gen. Prince Naruhiko Higashikuni, to form Nippon's new government. It was an unprecedented step. Never before, Domei said, has a member of the royal family headed the government of Japan.

His eldest son, Prince Morohito, married the eldest daughter of Emperor Hirohito, the Princess Tera, in 1943.

Higashi-Kuni, 58 years old, was one of Japan's directing wartime generals and once was reported to have threatened trial and possible death to captured allied airmen.

The message expressed great embarrassment, but said that it was "impossible for us to arrange for the flight of our representative on Aug. 17" as demanded by

FIGHT IN SELF DEFENSE

Guam, Aug. 16—(AP)—Great pilots of Admiral Halsey's crack American and British carrier fleet fought on in self defense Wednesday after they had been told of failure to cancel all operations and return to base.

"We knew that meant the war was over," they said. They had completed the first of six or seven scheduled strikes against Tokyo area ground targets when the cancellation order came. And on their way back they were told of the decision to stop all operations and return to base.

The order meant that the 100 enemy planes destroyed or damaged in the past week's four days of fighting.

No Elation Shown

They were all elated over fighting and theoretically were the last acts of the war, for several of their friends failed to return from that early morning, post-remember scrap with nearly 50 enemy fighters.

"We were over Okinawa, about ten miles west of Tokyo, when we got the message," Lt. Ted W. Hansen, Santa Cruz, Calif., told Associated Press correspondent at Dopking.

"Through an opening in the clouds, we saw Atsugi Field, but the guns there didn't fire on us," he continued. "We this group of six American planes were between Atsugi and Tokyo Bay when 15 to 20 Jap fighters jumped us."

In addition to the 26 shot down in such dogfights, nine more enemy planes were downed near the fleet during the day, Admiral Nimitz's communiqué reported.

The communiqué also disclosed the damaging of an American naval auxiliary vessel, not otherwise identified, at Okinawa Monday evening with a loss of 15 killed, one missing and 14 wounded.

MacArthur Waiting

to MacArthur, whose last word from the Japanese was acknowledgment of the surrender message at 11 p. m., last night.

Domei added the caution it might take "even several days" for the order to be relayed to all remote units.

American commanders on Luzon attempted to inform all Japanese of the surrender and watched the situation closely as indicative of whether Japanese field forces generally would accept the imperial decision to quit.

Japs Get Byrnes' Note

Tokyo radio did acknowledge receipt of a note from Secretary of State Byrnes which instructed Japan to order hostilities ceased immediately and notify MacArthur. Tokyo said the text reached government hands at 11 a. m., today Tokyo time (4 p. m. last night Central War time), adding:

"Necessary arrangements are accordingly being made promptly."

At noon yesterday the Signal Corps in Manila transmitted to Japan a message from MacArthur in which he informed the emperor of his appointment as supreme commander of the allied powers to effect Japan's surrender and asked that a Tokyo area radio station be designated for communication purposes.

Procedure Detailed

A little later, a second message instructed Japanese leaders to order hostilities ceased at once, then notify MacArthur of the "effective date and hour" whereupon "the allied forces will be directed to cease hostilities." In great detail, the message told of procedure for representatives to fly to Manila by way of Ie Shima, west of Okinawa in the Ryukyus, to receive instructions in surrender procedure.

MacArthur's statement emphasized that nine hours went by before his first message was acknowledged.

"Transmitting facilities in the United States were asked to assist in transmitting the supreme commander's messages to Japan," the statement noted.

By early (Wednesday) evening many agencies in the United States and in neutral capitals of the world were bombarding Japan with these directives.

"By 9 p. m. Manila time, an acknowledgment was received that message No. 1 had been received and understood. By 11 p. m., receipt of message No. 2 was acknowledged. Up to this time, no reply has been received."

Twelve Hours of Waiting

When MacArthur issued his statement, more than 12 hours of waiting for a reply has passed.

In Manila, the prolonged silence was disconcerting because many believed there always was the possibility of some new development hampering the negotiations.

On Ie Shima, near Okinawa, Americans have painted white identifying marks on the runway of an airfield where an unarmed Japanese plane—painted white with green crosses—is due to arrive tomorrow from Kyushu, if the Japanese follow MacArthur's instructions.

From there, the representatives are to be flown to an airfield here, as yet undesignated. Everywhere on the way to the meeting with MacArthur, the Japanese delegation will see the handiwork of their own forces during the street fight in Manila and the preparations the American had made to use the city as a springboard for future operations.

Office in City Hall

MacArthur's office is in one corner of the battered city hall where shell holes still gape some walls. Across the street is the fantastically tumbled ruins of the legislative building. Nearby is the neatly stacked rubble which marked the outer edge of the intramuros walled city.

Giant Strides Marked U. S. Road to Military Leadership

Weak in manpower and equipment, the United States was almost totally unprepared for war at the time of the Pearl Harbor attack. Its military consisted of 1,588,000 men in the Army, 428,726 men and 7695 combat ships of all types in the Navy, and 5265 combat planes, for both Army and Navy, many of which were obsolete. At the peak of its strength this year, it consisted of an Army of 8,300,000 men, a Navy of 4,036,901 men and 92,185 ships, and air forces of 88,776 first line Army and Navy combat planes. Graph above shows the incredible increase, in less than four years, according to figures from the War and Navy Departments and official publications.

Wonderful

Davis - Monthan Airfield, Ariz.—(AP)—The fruits of a peace were really sweet for a young G. I. at this army air base.

Shortly after President Truman announced the Japanese surrender, the soldier stuck his head into the camp library and whistled at pretty WAC Private Connie Hall.

Then he said: "Excuse me, but I wanted to see how it would feel to whistle at a girl in peace-time. Before the war I was too young to do it."

of celebration today as several industries and business places in Dixon remained closed. Some of the industries which had originally planned to resume operations this morning, remained closed when only a skeleton force reported for duty. The barber shops which normally close at the noon hour on Thursday during the summer months, were closed for the entire day. Business houses, grocery stores and markets resumed operations on a regular schedule this morning.

raise $5,000 to prove Joe's was a "bum rap."

Majczek's wrongly imposed punishment has not embittered him. "I know that nobody escapes his share of troubles," he said. "What happened to me was my portion. I realize I'll never be able to find happiness if I start out with a grudge against anybody."

"I want to get my hands on some work—and quick. I'm going to start looking for a job right away. I hope to find the sort of work that will teach me something and give me a chance to climb to responsibility."

His mother had little to say as she hustled about the house trying to make Joe feel at home again. Her face, however, radiated her joy at having her boy back and having her faith in his innocence confirmed.

Offers $5,000 Reward

When Mrs. Majczek had raised her $5,000, she inserted an ad in the Chicago Daily Times offering $5,000 reward "for killers of officer Lundy Dec. 9, 1932." Times reporters investigated and aided her in her campaign.

Mrs. Majczek offered the $5,000 in the newspaper when her son was pardoned but the publishers declined, saying they considered the case one of community interest and public service.

On the automobile ride home from the prison near Joliet, Majczek remarked now everything had changed since 1933. Then he spied a Chicago street car and said: "They haven't changed any. One of these days I'm going to take a long ride on a street car."

When roughly handled, loads play dead so thoroughly that their breathing movements are entirely suspended.

THE HOME FRONT PLEDGE:

"I will pay no more than top legal prices."

"I will accept no rationed goods without giving up ration stamps."

White Hall, Ill., Aug. 16—(AP)—Men of the First Baptist church arranged an old-fashioned hay ride but couldn't round up enough horses for the packs. So they hitched up tractors and chugged merrily away.

The War Today

not existed before, since Adam. Of course this reconstruction is going to take time, and it will be fraught with many perils. Europe already is torn with political upheavals, some of which have produced bloodshed. We are likely to see a lot more of this before the continent settles down. Europe also is facing a dangerous period of hunger and cold and other privations, all of which are breeders of discontent. Much the same thing is true of the orient.

However, it is fortunate (we hope) that the Big Three—America, Britain and Russia—have emerged from the war with such vast strength that among them they can, by working through the new United Nations security organization, keep things in hand during the rehabilitation. The only real danger of a breakdown would lie in a quarrel among the trio. Should they fall out—but maybe we'd better not go into that.

It's no use dismissing this danger with the light remark that trouble among the Big Three is "impossible." That word "impossible" in the mouths of hands-across-the-seas orators, has caused more trouble than all the statesmen of both hemispheres could repair. There are mighty few things which are "impossible"—as witness the atomic bomb—and most certainly quarrels among nations aren't impossible.

Yet, while America, Russia and Britain have some interlocking interests, there's nothing in sight which should cause discussion. Their present disposition is to work together on world rehabilitation. They've had their differences of opinion already—but the partnership remains sound.

So far as concerns another world war, the removal of the two great aggressor nations—Germany and Japan—plus the advent of the atomic bomb, bids fair to put the gods of war on the unemployed list. Heaven knows I've reason enough to be cynical after all the war and revolution I've eye-witnessed in the last generation, but I really believe it's possible to have a lasting peace when we've done our job of putting a badly disorganized world in order again.

Japs Planning Come-back

The reporter said most Japanese radio pronouncements since acceptance to the surrender terms seem to indicate the Japanese are planning a military come-back in the future.

Nearly every defeated people felt that way about it, the president remarked. But, he added, he did not think the Japanese ever would have a chance to obtain revenge.

The president, clad in a tan summer suit and wearing a brown bow tie, opened his conference with the remark that he had no particular news but thought reporters ought to have a chance to look him in the face and ask him pertinent questions. He grinned as he said this.

Mrs. Atkins, Over 90 on the Air Tuesday Morn in Hollywood

Dixonites listening to their radios Wednesday morning, who were tuned in on Hollywood Breakfast, with Tom Breneman as master of ceremonies were interested when they heard the words "Dixon, Ill." It is the custom of this program to select the eldest lady present, interview her and after the conversation present her with an orchid. Mrs. Atkins receiving the courtesy. Also on the broadcast were the members of four generations of the Atkins family. Mrs. Atkins, Mrs. McKnight, Mrs. Anderson and her two daughters.

Mrs. Atkins, who is over 90 years old, reaching that age the 18th of March, told of her residence in Dixon, of her children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. George Atkins lived for many years on Peoria avenue, and she related that there had been five children in the family, three passing away. Two children, Mrs. Grace McKnight of Pasadena, California, with whom Mrs. Atkins lives, and Jay Atkins, a son, who lives in Dixon, completed the home circle with their parents.

Mrs. Atkins spoke of her granddaughter Marion, now Mrs. Arthur Anderson of Pasadena, Calif., and of her two great-granddaughters, Jane Anderson who is fifteen, and Kay who is eleven.

Mrs. Atkins whose mind is remarkably alert and clear spoke of her son Jay who lives in this city, and of her two grandchildren here, Dorothy who is at home with her parents, and Jay Donald, who has been in the service for three years in the engineers' corps. He has been overseas a year and a half.

Retired Teachers—Club at Russell Home Wednesday

On Wednesday afternoon the Retired Teachers' club was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Russell. Miss Edna Burnham presided.

The program was of a patriotic nature in keeping with V-J Day. A number of interesting articles were given by various members of the club. One of special interest was given by Miss Minet Wagner on the atomic bomb.

A brief memorial service was held in honor of Miss Florence Mason, who has so recently passed to her reward. L. W. Miller, who had known her the longest and had been associated with her in the Dixon schools, gave a fitting tribute to her memory and to her faithful work as a teacher. During the social hour refreshments were served by the hostess.

Truman Moves Into

government has been eager for management and labor to continue into the peacetime years the cooperation by which they helped win the war.

The President said the War Labor Board would be continued as long as there is necessity for it. The board has been the government's big stick in keeping industrial peace.

Other New Developments

Other top developments on the home front:

1. Tax authorities said all Americans seem likely to get a moderate cut on their income taxes by Jan. 1.

2. The Maritime Commission said building would be stopped on some ships but that others—far along in construction—would be continued.

3. With gasoline rationing now finished, petroleum officials said the fuel soon would be back to pre-war quality.

4. The House Appropriations Committee is asking all federal agencies how much money they can turn back into the treasury—now that peace is here.

5. The army airforces cancelled the planned production of 31,000 planes.

6. The War Labor Board settled down to tackling tough problems of peace: What to do about Montgomery Ward properties—seized by the army—and Sewell Avery, head of the company. Can he refuse, now that the war's over, to abide by the board's orders?

Pattern Now Clearer

The pattern for the vast reconversion task ahead took clearer form. It was bordered on all sides by official warnings that lessons learned from World War I must be heeded.

Reconversion director John W. Snyder declared: "The greatest single danger to an orderly reconversion lies in the threat of inflation. We cannot and must not repeat our folly after World War I."

Price Administrator Chester Bowles asserted: "After World War I economic fumbling delayed orderly peacetime reconversion for more than two years."

Said Stabilization Director William H. Davis: "We cannot afford to risk an unstable, ruinous economy such as we had after the last war."

Then Davis, broadcasting last night with Snyder and other officials recalled what happened after Armistice Day in 1918:

"Price controls were dropped. In the next few months, as industry shifted, there was a short lull," Snyder sagged. "The danger of inflation seemed over."

Workers with new peacetime jobs rushed to stores to spend their savings. There weren't enough goods. Storekeepers and manufacturers started a "wild scramble" to buy everything they could.

Collapse Came Quickly

Prices skyrocketed. Then came the collapse. People couldn't pay the high prices. Prices crashed. Bankrupt businesses numbered 110,000. Jobless people numbered 5,500,000. More than 400,000 farmers lost their farms.

Snyder, terming the nation "at the crossroads," urged management, labor, farmers and government to work together with the same spirit that enabled them to win the war.

Here are some of the latest developments:

1. The War Production board said it will cut its 400 controls down to 40 by next Monday. Announcing its reconversion program, WPA opened the gates to unlimited production of autos, refrigerators, washing machines, and the like. It also gave the signal for industrial construction to begin. Controls on scarce materials and on inventories will remain temporarily.

All's Rosy Now in the Service Wife's World

By RUTH MILLETT

Where is that war wife who only the other day was worrying about her own family problems of postwar readjustment? Who grew blue and despondent just thinking about the job ahead of her when her man would come home and once more would have to get acquainted with his wife and children again, to assume the responsibility for getting a job and settling down?

That woman who was getting so much conflicting advice on how to treat her returned serviceman, she wondered if she would ever be equal to the task?

The girl who was wondering if she would ever have the wisdom, the understanding, the patience, the tact to make a go of things when her man came back to her? Where is that harassed and lonely creature?

No wonder you can't find her. The weight of uncertainty and advice has slipped from her shoulders.

There is a spring to her step and her head is up in the clouds. She isn't "a poor little thing" any more. She doesn't need sympathy and advice.

She is a sure creature, who doesn't figure there is any problem in the world that can lick her now. Don't worry about her any more. She doesn't need anyone to hold her hand.

There is just one thing on her mind, now. When is Joe coming home? How many days, how many weeks, how many months?

And, oh yes, she has another problem or two. But she'll solve them. They're really simple — though they seem stupendous at the moment. What is she going to wear when she meets her man at the railroad station?

And how is she going to manage her points so as to have the pantry and ice box well stocked for his return?

There may be tough problems ahead of her — and later she may want some advice—but not now. Not on anything more serious than, say, is her new permanent tummy becoming.

That "poor little war wife" is the happiest women in the world.

New York.—Probably the Nazi records of communist terrorism and deliberate, planned debauchery among young Germans have been destroyed one way or another. Because they were Nazi records they would be subject to discount, anyway. But outside Germany there survive contemporary proofs of this evil campaign and, of course, many credible witnesses still live whose accounts of riots, the seizure of citizens in their homes and on the streets, vandalism and sabotage may be considered for the guidance of Americans toward a correct judgment of events leading up to Hitlerism and the war.

We are dishonest with ourselves if we weakly admit that Hitlerism just happened as an expression of the German racial character, without cause or provocation. There were causes, the like of which in this country would invite martial law, at least, and might drive us into some form of fascism, some of whose arbitrary controls over the actions of the people were readily adopted by the Roosevelt administration. If the Nazis rejected freedom as an ideal, be it remembered that the communists before them had used every trick in their book to make freedom under representative government impossible. The Nazis did not invent secret police work, infiltration of the police and military forces by secret agents and the secret denunciation of individuals by neighbors and associates whom they trusted as friends. They learned all this the hard way from the communists who, up to 1932, could cast about six million votes and Hitlerism was, like fascism in Italy, a revolt against revolutionary terror and planned degradation promoted by outsiders.

Our recollection of this sequence has been obscured by propaganda and Germany, we may have—and our own loathing for the indecencies of Hitlerism but we deceive ourselves if we permit our-hatred of Germany, wholesome as it is, to cancel important truths which in some calmer time will be examined by historians and included in the final verdict. The evil epithet, "Nazi", will be flung at all who insist on studying the cause as well as the effect in Germany but no American who values freedom of opinion and truth above personal convenience will be intimidated by that.

A calm but determined review of the communist terror in Germany, trustworthy accounts of which were written day by day before Hitlerism came, might warn Americans against similar impositions here. We have come to the end of the great war and millions of men soon will be coming home, dispersing all over the country, looking for jobs and homes. Between them and those jobs, without which they cannot have the homes, there stands, however, the so-called labor movement which is really a dictatorship over labor and industry as well, by a few power politicians, skilled in the sly devices and stratagems which brought Hitlerism to Germany and war to the world.

Many Americans say, carelessly, "wait till the boys come home and see what they will do to those pickets who try to keep them from their jobs."

I am afraid the boys will not be able to do much, even granting that most of them will be hostile to this dictatorship. The unions are entrenched in most of our industries. They have hundreds of millions of dollars, their organization is an ominous marvel of tireless efficiency and when the returned service man finds himself broke and unemployed with, perhaps, a young wife and baby dependent on him, they will put an arm over his shoulder, sympathize with him, possibly feed him and his for a few days, and tell him that the enemies of labor, the war profiteers and the native fascists are responsible for his misery. They will tell him that the shameful record of strikes in the war industries is, in fact, an honorable record of a fight which they waged on the home front during his absence to preserve his rights and advance his wages.

Many of them will believe this, the more of them because, for a fact, there was profiteering in this war notwithstanding the resounding promises of their government to prevent profiteering. So here, as in Germany, we may have veteran fighters, skilled in fighting and hardened to it, standing shoulder to shoulder with the communists in front of idle plants which could be turning out automobiles and a thousand other articles, and paying wages and creating prosperity. Those veterans who do not believe the communist propaganda will be only loosely organized at best but if they should form themselves into bands with brassards for identification to fight for their jobs, then also here, as in Germany, old comrades would be set to fighting one another and these groups surely would be called fascists.

Oddly, we grant these power politicians of unionism the right to maintain private armies and shoot, club and burn but if other groups fight back, they are fascists or Nazis and subject to the usual penalties.

It is not too soon to consider these possibilities for we have done little toward reconversion and the same philosophy that fought against recovery, internal peace, confidence and prosperity in Germany after the first war is mighty in the CIO and the Political Action Committee and probably some of the same agents are available, posing as refugees from persecution when retribution would be an apter word.

Most of us seem to have swallowed without blinking the propaganda which derides the popular German conviction that Germany stood against Bolshevism. But we weren't there whereas the Germans were under the guns and Bolshevism did invade them and now that their war is lost it is back, proving that it had marked them for a victim. True, Germany was responsible for Bolshevism for Germany created Lenin's revolution for the immediate purpose of putting Russia finally out of the first war and releasing armies to attack the allies in France. That, however, does not impair the fact that after her defeat Germany was invaded by the pestilence which she had created, possibly under-estimating its vitality.

It is idle to wonder what our people would have done in the same circumstances but it is urgent that we understand that the same type of revolutionary is determined to reproduce those circumstances here as soon as the war ends and Russian victory is secure.

More Than 12 Per Cent of State is Now Dry

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 16.—(AP)—Dry have made slight gains in Illinois during recent years and 825 political subdivisions now ban retail liquor sales to 12.6 per cent of the state's population residing in those areas, the Illinois Liquor Control Commission reported today.

Eight of 102 counties are entirely wet, the commission survey showed. It listed them as Kane, Kane, Jersey, Alexander, Massac, Mason, Marshall, Monroe and Putnam.

The 825 dry localities include cities, towns, villages, townships, road districts, and 118 Chicago precincts.

Best Way to Celebrate The Peace

We were sitting on Bill Webster's porch the other night, talking about how we'd celebrate when the Japs surrendered.

Lem Toller allowed as how he was going to start his vacation then and there—and spend it fishing. Ed Mapes was going to take his family to Mountain Lake for a big feed and a picture show.

Bill Webster had the last suggestion. "I'm going to pour a glass of beer and drink a toast to our fighting men," he says, "and that is just as far as my celebrating's going to go. I'm going to make sure of being on the job next morning."

From where I sit, Bill Webster has the right idea. When Peace comes, there's going to be a whole new world to build. There's a really big job to be done. A glass of beer, the beverage of moderation, and a good night's sleep to be ready for the task ahead—that's the right way to welcome Victory!

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Reproduction in Whole or in Part Strictly Prohibited)

Washington—Advice for Mr. Truman to negotiate a peace with Japan leaving the emperor atop his people came largely from our former ambassador to Japan. His long tenure in Tokyo gave power to his influence in the administration and dragged the new State Secretary Byrnes along. The theory was that the emperor, an unjustifiable god over his people, would have influence which would be useful to us in the post-war world. Truman went along, presumably because of his long-held personal conviction that lives would be saved by any satisfactory peace short of unconditional surrender.

These were the motivating influences behind the developments of the last few days, yet there prevail among a rather large group of congressmen, perhaps half of those remaining here during the recess, a firm belief that we are facing in Tokyo a clique just as tricky and unscrupulous in peace as the Nazis in Germany. These senators observed the original Japanese note started out with the assertion that the emperor had always desired peace in the world, and they could not forget how this same emperor sent peace emissaries to Washington, while sending aircraft carriers at the same time for a sneak destruction at Pearl Harbor. The preposterous note, they thought, was worded like an arrogant assumption that we must be stupid.

American troops in the South Pacific were so enthusiastic at the time of the Japs UP flash, some authorities thought a question of morale might arise if anything unfortunate happened to the peace negotiations. The Japs know such things indeed, and when the false flash broke, there were many here who suspected the Japs might have tapped the UP wire in order to build up a popular demand for peace behind the Truman negotiations, although this seems technically to be difficult or impossible according to inside officials. The wire into which the false news was fed was a printer circuit, not a Morse wire. It was much easier for authorities here to suspect at the outset that some idle machine on the wire had been plugged in by a prankster, or someone with a personal purpose, rather than to suspect a Jap trick.

Yet such insidious types of clever planning have come to be expected from the Nazis by our people, and the new evidence of the last few months shows clearly the Japs followed Nazi propaganda technique as far as their limited ability permitted. Indeed, the evidence was so plain as to warrant the warning in this column dated last Thursday, Aug. 9 and published the following day, before the Jap peace move was known, to beware of further steps by Japan toward "a sneak peace" and "Pearl Harbor trickery" in the peace. It must be reported also, for the sake of completeness, that congress does not unanimously enjoy the same confidence as Truman in the judgment of Grew on Japan. Grew was the ambassador in Tokyo at the time of Pearl Harbor and earlier when we were sending scrap iron, oil and other valuable war supplies to Japan in hopeful delusion that these would bring peace. It is always possible for an ambassador to go back into official dispatches and pick out a few lines he sent among others weeks or months previously, which would indicate he knew what was coming, but certainly if Grew knew, he did not convince anyone in Washington at the time, as no one in Washington took steps commensurate with what came.

The least expected here by the way congressmen is that the Japanese military clique will use every unscrupulous device possible to thwart the peace in any peace agreement made. I think the Truman government realizes these clear prospects, but has not cared to put the emphasis upon them which the congressmen place, and believes it will be able to cope with any possibilities once it gets control.

My personal belief is that the first post-war priority for Japan is destruction of their unjustified religious faith in their emperor as being superior to all other rulers on earth and a lineal descendant of the sun goddess. It can be done with truth and facts showing that concubines and cut-throats got into that supposedly unbroken lineage from heaven, as all Japanese intellectuals well know, but not by continuing—or using—the superstition which was the greatest propaganda facility of the Jap war makers.

THROUGH JAPANESE EYES

THE GOD-EMPEROR

IN the eyes and hearts of his subjects, the Japanese Emperor is no ordinary mortal ruler like the secular and political heads of state in the West, including kings who claim to rule by divine right. He is God himself, or rather the human incarnation of an eternal God.

This unique position of the Japanese Emperor, which by a historical paradox, is far more firmly established in modern than it was in feudal Japan, is based on the national Shinto faith which proclaims that he is the lineal descendant of the Sun Goddess, the highest deity in the Japanese Pantheon of "eight hundred myriad" gods, who rules the Heavens, and who charged her descendants with the rule of the Japanese Islands. This assumed descent is accepted by the whole Japanese nation, barring a few intellectuals long since silenced, as a literal and fundamental truth, and it is the basic axiom on which rests the whole Japanese theocratic state. There is, indeed, no ruler on earth able to command the same kind of religious reverence and fanatical loyalty and devotion as the Japanese people freely give to their Emperor.

It is not necessary that the Emperor be good, or wise, or strong. His title is his lineage which makes him God, and as God he is—in theory—the absolute ruler. In fact, the absolute owner of all Japan and all the Japanese people, above all human judgment or challenge, above even the frailties of his own human incarnation.

Legitimacy Questioned
There is no doubt that the Japanese dynasty is by far the oldest in the world—so old and unique that it is without a family name. But it did not always enjoy its present prosperity. Within historic times it has suffered many vicissitudes, and by Western standards even its legitimacy is more than dubious. By no means has the Japanese throne been always transmitted in direct succession from father to son. The dynasty could be sustained only because of the very flexible Oriental concept of what constitutes a family—a concept based not on the union between husband and wife, but on the relation between father and children. The woman does not account for much in Japan, and the illegitimacy of the offspring on the mother's side is no bar to inheritance. If there is no heir by the legitimate Empress, an heir by a concubine is just as eligible. The father of the present Emperor was himself the offspring of such a union between the Emperor Meiji and a lady of the court. If there is no offspring by the ruling emperor at all, the throne goes to the next of kin within the large Imperial clan comprising many families. Only thus was the life of the dynasty stretched out over many centuries. The succession to the throne is now regulated by the Imperial House Law which takes that situation into account. It provides that the throne shall go to the male descendants of the male line in the order of seniority and nearness of kin. But this ordered succession is of recent origin. Prior to it, the succession was often decided by the whims of individual Emperors or Empresses, or by the intrigues among the ladies—or the gentlemen—of the Imperial boudoirs, until finally the throne became merely a pawn in the power politics of the strong men who really ruled the country.

WHAT Shinto has been able to make of the Japanese Emperors within living memory is shown by the following:

"According to Shinto, Japan is a holy land. It was made by the Gods, whose lineal descendant is the Emperor. Hence he must be revered and worshipped as a God."
—Constitutional Development of Japan, 1853-1881, by Dr. Toyokichi Iyenaga, Johns Hopkins University Studies, 1891.

"It is the duty of every man born on the Imperial soil to yield devoted loyalty to his Sovereign, even at the sacrifice of his own life. Let no one suppose for a moment that there is any credit due him for so doing."—History of the True Succession of the Divine Monarchs, by Kitabatake Chikafusa, 1293-1354.

Heavenly Created Throne

"Japan's national polity is unique in the world. Heaven sent down Ninigo-no-Mikoto to Kashihara, Yamato Province, with a message that their posterity should reign over and govern Japan for ages eternal. It was on this happy day, 2601 years ago, that our first Emperor, Jimmu, ascended the throne. Dynasties in foreign countries were created by man. Foreign kings, emperors and presidents are all created by men, while Japan has a sacred throne, inherited from the Imperial ancestors Japanese Imperial rule, therefore, is an extension of Heaven. The dynasties created by men may collapse but the Heavenly created throne is beyond men's power."—Baron Kuichiro Hiranuma, Home Minister, in speech to school teachers at celebration of the "2601st" anniversary of the foundation of the Japanese Empire, Feb. 11, 1941.

"That the Mikado reigns and governs the country absolutely, by a Right inherited from His Divine Ancestors, is the unconscious belief and the instinctive feeling of the Japanese people. Indeed it may be said to be their religion. Theoretically he is the center of the State as well as the State itself. He is to the Japanese mind the Supreme Being in the Cosmos of Japan, as God is in the Universe to the pantheistic philosopher. From him every thing emanates, there is nothing on the soil of Japan existent independent of him. He is the sole owner of the Empire, the author of law, justice, privilege and honor, and the symbol of the unity of the Japanese nation."—The Political Development of Japan, by George Elsjuro Uyehara, former Vice Speaker of the House of Representatives, London, 1910.

Tiger Club Easy Cinch To Leonard

Ever since Dutch Leonard knocked Detroit out of the American league pennant on the last day of the 1944 season, the Washington Knickerball artist has pitched against the Tigers like he owned them.

Leonard has trimmed the Bengals four straight, counting that fateful 4-1 job last October 1 after he had been propositioned by a gambler looking for a sure thing. Dutch slammed down the phone and went out to hang a hex on the motor city that hasn't been broken yet.

Now that the race is showing signs of developing into a Tigers-Senators scrap down the stretch, Leonard's spell over the O'Neill clan promises to cause nightmares for Detroit boosters.

Leonard Blanks Bengals

Opening a vital four-game series at Briggs Stadium yesterday with a brilliant 8-0 shutout of the league-leaders behind Leonard's four-hit throwing, Washington should be recognized as a serious threat to the pace setters.

Ossie Bluege's Nats are only 2½ games back of Detroit with 48½ to play and have beaten the front runners eight out of 14 times. Eight more meetings between the two contenders, three in the next three days in the Tigers' home air, may tell the pennant story.

Steve O'Neill sent Jim Tobin after the Senators in the series opener but they whacked his "nothing ball" for eight hits and seven runs in four innings. Leonard faced only 31 men in notching his 14th season of the season.

Sox Swat Boston

The Chicago Sox, who have won 10 of their last 14, also are advancing in the race, occupying third place 5½ games off the pace. Although generally overlooked by most observers, Jimmy Dykes is getting steady pitching again and the club is making a final move to regain the lead it held until late May.

Bill Dietrich stopped Boston, 5-1, in the first of two and Orval Grove bettered the job by blanking the Red Sox, 11-0 in the other half.

Cleveland edged into the first division for the first time on Steve Gromek's 15th win, an 8-3 job over Philadelphia, while St. Louis bumped off Niek York, 10-4. Red Ruffing, Nokomis, Ill., hurler, who had won his first three starts for the Yanks since his release from the Army, was the loser. It was a sixth straight loss for the Yanks who fell to fifth and only a game out of sixth.

Cubs Molder Bums

Chicago's Cubs tore Brooklyn apart with a 20-6 barrage that all but exploded the Dodgers' pennant dreams. Two homers by Paul Gillespie, one with the scalps loaded in the first inning, set the pace for the Bruins. Hank Borowy coasted to his third decision.

The defending champion St. Louis Cardinals lost more ground when they split a two-night pair in Philadelphia, bowing to the Phillies, 8-5, but bouncing back for an even break, 7-0, on rookie Glen Gardner's first big league start. As a result of the day's action Chicago's lead measures 6 games.

Pittsburgh advanced to within a game of fourth-place New York by outslugging the Giants, 11-9, and then easing out a 3-2 second game shade on Nick Strincevich's four blow chucking.

Cincinnati continued its weary eastern tour, dropping its 2th and 13th in a row in Boston, 10-5 and 13-3, Tommy Holmes of the Braves hit two over the wall to take the major home run lead with 20.

Peace Brings Crowd Boom to All Sports Events in Nation

New York, Aug. 16—(AP)—If there remained any doubt that the war's end would create the biggest boom in racing and baseball's history, yesterday's huge crowds at the tracks and ball parks have erased them.

A survey of seven of the currently operating tracks and eight major league parks revealed that a total of 315,739 fans—197,879 at the races, betting $10,587,786, and 117,860 at the ball games—turned out to observe the coming of peace.

Four tracks established new attendance marks. Another a season's high, while two ball parks attracted the largest weekday crowds of the year. In addition three betting marks were set.

A record breaking crowd of 42,000 bet $1,915,980 at Washington Park's eight-race card, more than ever had been recorded on a like-number program at a Chicago course. The day's total compared favorably to the $2,012,018 which went through the machines on nine races July fourth of this year.

Detroit's largest weekday crowd of the year 46,680, showed up for the first game of the Tigers' "crucial" series with Washington, which the Bengals dominated when Dutch Leonard drubbed them for the fourth time this sea-

Ed Brockman is the most roundly booed and hooted boxing referee in Baltimore, possibly in the business anywhere.

With the announcement of his name at ringside, the fans, by long-standing ritual, rear back and cut loose in best Brooklyn style. That includes his best friends, too.

But the topper for Ed who has become used to it all and accepts the jeers for what they are—compliments paid in reverse—happened this way:

"Pop," his son said one night after seeing a show with two of Ed's oldest friends, "you remember when that boxing started after they announced you as referee? Well, both your friends stood right up and booed you.

"I did, too."

Li. Paul Menzie, former Penn State baseball captain, writes he is still trying to lay out a diamond at his company headquarters in Germany.

"I'm soon get it laid out when a farmer opens the dykes and second base becomes knee deep in water," he says.

Walker Cooper, who is now top receiver at Great Lakes, has said that Bob Feller will probably be just as good after he is discharged as he was before the war. . . "I caught Bob in an exhibition game back in 1911 and of course, he was blazing fast then," recalls Walker. "He still burns that ball across, but from what I know of his pro-war speed, I'd say a little of the daring hop is missing now."

Col. Larry MacPhail can't say Hank Borowy didn't try to shake his late inning flitters for which the ex-Fordham pitcher is known. Exactly one week before Borowy was traded to the Chicago Cubs, he and Newsom were sitting on a trunk outside the Yankee dressing room waiting for the rain to subside.

Newsom had won his fourth straight game for the son. In Chicago, 24,478 fans, comprised the biggest weekday gathering to see the White Sox in a daylight contest.

Old Timers Capture Three in Row Over High School Outfit

After pinning down one high school team twice, the old timers came through last evening with another victory over a slightly different outfit, piloted by Hi Emmert, perennial baseball addict.

Although the new team almost gave the school boys their third straight shellacking, the score was far different than it had been in the previous sessions, when the youngsters were practically shut out.

Earl Burkett who started last night as the school team's pitcher, held the oldsters down well until the fourth inning, when a disastrous series of errors and well hit balls gave the old men five runs. Flash Fordham gave the boys 7 bingles, including two doubles and a home run, while Burkett allowed the oldsters 8 safeties, two extra bases.

Youngsters Start Well

In the first frame, Kernan banged out a double, and was chased in as Jack Vaile looped a long home run into left field. After holding oldsters scoreless, the high schoolers were unable to make anything in the second. When the veterans came up, they netted two on a double by Hasselberg, and error and a single by Jack Burke. Both outfits hit pay dirt in the third with one run, and the youngsters netted another in the fourth. The old boys finally tired of all the foolishness, and garnered 5 talbes in a big fourth on five hits, one a triple by Flash Fordham, and a costly error by the school boys.

The fifth produced two counters for the younger set, and the oldsters netted nothing. By the end of that frame, it was too dark to continue the game, so umpire Bill Short called it.

From the looks of last night's performance, the oldsters might not be too distant from a whipping by the school lads. They have been picking up and are working smoothly lately, and may be able to topple the strong men's team.

Athletics a few days previous and Borowy was very much interested.

"Have you developed any new pitch?" asked Hank.

"No, I'm just beginning to get lucky," replied Bobo.

Two days later the Yanks broke Newsom's winning streak and a week later Borowy went the distance in his Cub debut for a 3-2 victory. Maybe Hank is "just beginning to get lucky."

Praising the spirit and willingness of Illinois football candidates throughout summer workouts, Ray Eliot announces that fall practice will open Sept. 3. That's Labor Day, when all laborers are supposed to have a holiday.

"Many of these lads have been working at hard labor eight hours a day, then reporting for a two-hour drill in the evening," points out Coach Eliot.

Coach Jeff Cravath of Southern California's Rose Bowl champions thinks that even in this aerial age of football, there should be more forward passing.

In a lecture at a coaching school here, he said 70 per cent of last season's games that figured as even were won by passing.

Champaign, Ill., Aug. 16—(AP)—Names of players on the all-star south basketball team which will meet the north all-stars in the annual contest on Aug. 25 were announced today by Lew Stephens, manager of the game.

The roster of the south squad, to be coached by Harry Combes of Champaign, follows:

Forwards: Tony Brazas, Westville; Bob Olson, St. Elmo; Kenneth Payne, Canton; John Hall, Paris. Avian Anderson, Sullivan.

Guards: Gene Riley, Decatur; Bill Edwards, Johnston.

Centers: Gene Stollar, Pinckneyville; Bob Hancock, Villa Grove; Dean Duncan, Taylorville; Stan Cunningham, Easton.

South players will report to Combes Sunday night and will start practice Monday. The north

Two Players Barred

Two players who were named to the south squad—Bob Doster of Decatur, and Bob Jones of West Frankfort—both students at the University of Illinois summer school, were unable to obtain permission from the big 10 to compete. The western conference has a rule against undergraduate students performing on any team except one of their own university.

Combes, however, can pick a starting five averaging almost 6 feet 3 inches in height.

Riley, at center, stands 6 feet 7½ inches; Edwards, 6 feet 2½; Anderson, 6 feet 2, Hancock, 6 feet 4, and Olson, 6 feet 1 inch.

The south team has powerful scoring potential strength. Riley averaged about 20 points a game last season; Anderson averaged 18; Olson, 23; Edwards, 12, and Stollar, 14.

The annual north-south game will climax a coaches' clinic at the University of Illinois the week preceding the contest.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Aug. 16—(AP)—Hugh (losing pitcher) Mulcahy has been shipped home by the Phillies to rest and regain his strength. . . he was tuckered out and under weight when he rejoined the club after long service in the Pacific. . . That may be a tip to other teams that are looking forward hopefully to the return of athletes who have been where the going really was tough—or maybe it's just that Hughie wasn't in shape to stand watching a club like the Phils. . . Some of the tough decisions that will have to be made at the meeting of the International Olympic executive committee in London, starting Sunday, are what to do about Russia. . . That country should apply for membership and what's the status of nations which became axis puppets during the war. . . When the American Olympic committee met here Tuesday it was strongly in favor of resuming the games in 1948, if possible.

SHORTS AND SHELLS

Carolina football fans are touting a lineman who they say will remind you of Herman Hickman. He's Fred August, Jr., a 210-pound, five-foot-four lineman who plays for Wake Forest. . . We'll wait and see if he can equal Herman—either on a football field or at the dinner table. . . C. V. Whitney's boss, Jeep, won't race again this year. . . Drum Beater Harold Keith has counted 132 Oklahoma U. lettermen in the services who still have eligibility left if they decide to return to college. . . Ex-Dodger Jack Graham led his Camp Kearns, Utah, soldier ball team into the national semi-pro tournament with a .443 batting average for 16 games.

THE RAP FOR THE NAP

Roy Zimmerman, the first sack-er who became a "holdout" when the Giants recently bought him from Newark, once lost his job by over-sleeping. . . In 1940 Zimmy missed the start of a game for Columbia of the Sally league when he failed to awaken from a nap. . . Louie Goldstein was shoved in, made four hits, including a homer, and went on to win the regular first basing job. . . Roy bought an alarm clock then, but apparently he still can fall asleep at inopportune moments.

SERVICE DEPT.

Lt. (JG) Paul Brown's Great Lakes football team will get its first test a week from Saturday in a practice tilt against the College All-Stars. This year the Sailors can't lay claim to that All-Star tag. . . Navy Lt. Gardner Mulloy of the Little Creek, Va., amphibious training base, who will be on the more important players in the tennis nationals, recently was barred from the Norfolk public parks tournament as a "name" player.

Final Retort

Tucson, Ariz., Aug. 16.—(AP)—Sgt. Nelson Love kept a wisecrack under wraps for 1345 days, and when he finally used it yesterday, a waitress at a nearby airfield's service club couldn't think of a come-back.

The Sarge ordered a hamburger and when the waitress told him it was meatless Tuesday, he cracked: "Migosh, you'd think there was a war going on!"

bumpers with the police squad car. The police renewed the chase and continued to the east city limits where the speeding car crashed against a tree and came to a stop. Supinger was removed from the machine and taken to the city police station. Arraigned before Police Magistrate Albert Kennedy in police court this morning, he pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated and was assessed a fine of $100 and costs. In default of the fine he was taken to the county jail, but before departing was about to make another break when his progress was halted by a member of the fire department, who was present.

Supinger was said to have stated at the hearing that he drove to Dixon last night in a car belonging to Joseph Dillon of Aniboy, and that he did not possess a drivers license and that he obtained his liquor from a road house.

Will Stop Building Some Merchant Vessels

Washington, Aug. 16.—(AP)—With victory won, some merchant ship contracts will be canceled, but vessels in advanced stages of construction will be completed.

Disclosing this today, the Maritime Commission said a hull-by-hull inventory now is being made to determine what construction is to be halted.

While many factors will be considered, including a ship's post-war utility, the general rule will be to complete work on those already more than half finished.

It is now felt by truck dealers that most military trucks will be disposed of overseas, as it will entail less cost, and because ocean shipping space for the transportation of trucks will be at a minimum for some time to come.

On to Tokyo to Be Cry of World Series Champions
Washington, Aug. 16—(AP)—It's probably "on to Tokyo" for baseball's major leaguers.
Warren Giles, general manager of the Cincinnati Reds, suggested today as the game's bigwigs went into their second day of a major-league meeting, that it would be a good idea for big leaguers to play in the Japanese capital on their contemplated Pacific tour.
Babe Ruth led a group of American diamond stars to Tokyo about 20 years ago, and the Japanese, fond of baseball, long considered Ruth just about the greatest thing that ever crossed the waters.
Navy Invites Champs
Secretary of Navy Forrestal and Adm. Chester W. Nimitz recently invited the big leaguers to send the world series winner on a 90 day tour of advanced Pacific bases. Japan's surrender is not expected to make any change in these plans.
There could be no more advance base than Tokyo, Giles said.
The big leaguers played the principal part in yesterday's lengthy opening sessions. They cleared the way for returning war veterans to play in the World Series, pending approval by various leagues of this recommendation. Such action is considered a mere formality.
The recommendation also applies to the minor leagues for the little world series and Shaugnessy playoffs.
If a player returns any time during September, he can participate in the World Series. The normal deadline for establishing such eligibility is August 31.
Empire Stewart Fired
Separate from yesterday's roiling discussions Ernest Stewart, youngest American League umpire, disclosed that he has been "fired" by Will Harridge, league president. Rarely if ever before has a big league umpire been dismissed during the season.
Stewart told a reporter that Harridge contended he had caused discussion and was disloyal to some other umpires and the league.
The reason for his dismissal, Stewart said, revolved about his interest in trying to obtain higher salaries for umpires.
Said Harridge: "If that's the way Stewart prefers to have the story go out, that's perfect with me."
